The Council Peaceful, The House Clashing.

STATEHOOD AND SILVER.

The Republicans Again Force Delay On Both Measures—The Great Majority of Committee Plunge Go to Repeal Not a Great Amount of Work Done as Yet.

Allen and Varian and their followers of the majority in the house continue building. Judge Powers is the thorn in their side. How they do hate him, the democratic minority and every democratic measure. All is quiet in the council.

On the statehood and silver questions the republicans have become mixed worse than ever. The democratic side recognizing that the questions are likely to come up for consideration in the near future, have been anxious to give expression at once to their ideas on those questions but the republicans have resorted to dilatory motions in order to hold off consideration until they can endeavor to make an impression that the measures emanated from their side. For this attitude they were roasted to a turn yesterday by Powers, who claimed that the republicans were untrue to their constituents when they delay consideration of such important questions.

Varian carried out his promise to introduce a resolution against the taking off of the tariff on wool, and also made an attempt to show that the republicans are in favor of the people, by handing in a memorial asking for statehood. Allen brought forward a memorial on the lead question and a memorial asking congress to give the Industrial Home to the Salt Lake schools. Two bills were introduced in the house and one in the council making eight hours the working day on public works. A bill was introduced in each house extending the time of redemption in forced sales of real estate from six months to two years.

Was McKim Murdered?

Boise, Ida., Jan. 9.—What promises to be one of the biggest sensations of the season in Idaho is developing in connection with the death of William McKim, at one time superintendent of the Bonaparte Hill mine, a prominent property in Rocky Bar.

In 1887 McKim mysteriously disappeared and it was thought at the time that he had absconded, taking with him money belonging to the company.

Some time ago a skeleton was found in the Boise river, which from some articles found on it, was identified as being that of the missing superintendent. In addition a witness was produced who said he saw McKim drown.

The Bonaparte mine is a splendid property, but since McKim disappeared it has not been worked. Owners of the mine now here doubt whether the skeleton found was actually McKim's. It is charged that other miners in Rocky Bar have been taking ore from the Bonaparte Hill mine by working below and that it has developed great richness. Parties here are trying to bond the mine and others are endeavoring to lease it.

It is broadly hinted now that McKim became cognizant of the underground work, and that parties killed him and then threw him into the river on the theory that "dead men tell no tales." Deceitives are at work on the case, but are very reticent, though it has leaked out that evidence has been unearthed which will bring matters to the criminal court.

Scotfield Items.

To the Editor of THE DISPATCH:

Mr. John Jones of Winter Quarters has prevailed upon the management of the P. V. Coal company for medical treatment. It will be remembered that on September 25th last, an accident occurred in the Winter Quarters mine, whereby electric motorman, Mr. Jones, had a narrow escape for his life. The electric motor jumped the track and caused serious injuries and some broken bones to the said gentleman. His sufferings have told heavily on him. He is now very crippled. Mr. Jones will accompany Dr. Smith of Scotfield to Salt Lake city on the morning train and he will probably remain there a week or so under operations. We, the people of Scotfield and Winter Quarters, wish Mr. Jones success and a Wife Murderer Davis to be Shot.

Enoch Davis is to be shot after all. So says the supreme court of the United States. Another confirmation of the generally correct rulings of poor Blackburn. On the ninth of the court of last resort confirmed the action of the lower court.

DISPATCH readers generally remember the particulars of this revolting case. It was shown in the trial that Davis was a dissolute and hardened character who never aimed to rear his family in a respectable way and made life miserable for his poor wife whom he butchered entirely without cause one night last spring, afterwards throwing her nude body into a potatoe pit telling his children that their mother had gone off on a visit when they began to cry for her. The crime was committed in their cabin near Vernal in Emery county.

As the court of last resort has passed upon this case there will now be no unnecessary delay in executing the sentence of death hanging over the prisoner. Davis will be brought to Provo where his trial was held, to be shot. The execution will be in charge of Marshal Fowler.

Protecting Vegetables In Winter.

It does not seem to be generally known that light in the winter time is the chief agent in the destruction of vegetables otherwise hardy, and especially light shining brightly on the plant when frozen. A cabbage or turnip that is exposed to the light rots readily, but will keep perfectly sound if but slightly covered with earth. This principle should be remembered when collecting vegetables together in large masses for protection.

It is often customary to cover such sets of vegetables with some light material, such as leaves, hay or straw, the result of which generally is simply to form a harbor for mice, which are much more destructive than the frost itself. Water has, of course, to be excluded, and if the vegetable plants are set closely together and covered with boards to keep out the rain, it is generally all that is required. Water must be excluded, or else rotting may result. For this purpose it is good practice to invert vegetable tubs. The cabbage especially must receive this attention. They are almost always inverted when placed together under boards or covers for protection, and, in fact, where no covering at all is used they will keep perfectly well when inverted.—Meehan's Monthly.

Women School Commissioners.

Women were elected to the position of county school superintendent in several counties of the state at the late election. Among the number are Miss Mina Wheeler in Crittenden, Mrs. A. T. Milon in Madison, Miss Lucy Pattie in Franklin and Miss Katie McDaniel in Christian. There will be a host of female candidates for this position when the next election comes.—Owensboro Messenger.

Profers Domestic Service.

Elizabeth Banks, once private secretary to the British minister to Peru, will publish in a London daily a series of articles concerning her experiences as a parlor maid and housemaid in English families. The title will be, "In Caps and Aprons." She recommends domestic service to poor girls in preference to shop work.

A "Trust" Which is Popular.

There is a great deal of indignation felt against trusts. The Sugar Trust, the Standard Oil trust, the Welsh Nitrate Trust, the English Salt Trust, and other combinations of the kind are vigorously denounced, and it is a subject of controversy whether there are more trusts in England than America, and whether protection or free trade fosters them. But there is one form of trust against which no one has anything to say. That is the trust the public repose in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Home Industries.

To the Editor of THE EVENING DISPATCH: The following from Industry, a California engineering paper, would seem to point in the same direction as some transactions nearer home.

"The Carnegie Steel company continue to import their tools from England. The last is a heavy hydraulic press, by the Whitworth company, at Manchester, England, the parts of which were sent over in different consignments, and one imported as unmanufactured iron. One piece received recently weighs sixty-four tons, and the whole press when completed will weigh 1500 tons. Why such machines are not bought here no one can understand. The immensity of the castings is certainly not an impediment. There are firms in Philadelphia that could cast and fit up a bed-plate press of any size, quite as well as the Whitworth company, but not at the same price if the duty is evaded. Mr. Carnegie's idea of tariff is that it should pertain to what he 'sells,' and not to what he 'buys.' W. J. SILVER.

PROVO CO-OP A. SINGLETON, Superintendent.

Several other bills of lesser importance were also introduced. The other business done was mostly of a routine nature.

A bill introduced by Breeden, proposed to abolish the office of county collector, the duties of the office to revert to the county treasurer. Further provisions of the bill require that the added compensation be determined by the respective county courts, such added compensation not to exceed $3,000.

Taylor introduced a bill regulating the practice of dentistry in the territory, providing that a board of five practicing dentists be appointed, whose principal duties are to examine candidates and issue diplomas. Referred.

President Breeden, of the council, gave each of the democratic members a chairmanship on the committees, but distributed his favors somewhat unequally among the minority members, giving Lund only three places and Adams only four, and giving others as many as ten. Speaker Emery did not deign to give even one chairmanship to the minority, but gave the plums to his conferees. In the council, Hiram E. Booth received the most coveted plum in the chairmanship of the committee on judiciary, and thus is made the republican leader in the house. E. W. Taylor gets the next best, in the appropriation chairmanship. Alma Hague got there with three important chairmanships, mines and mining, university and agricultural college, and railways, while Alma Eldredge captured the committee on memorials. In the house, Varian received the best plum, the judiciary committee, and also the one on manufacturing and commerce. Allen got memorials and elections. Parsons has the appropriations. On the important committees the democrats are strong.

Allen presented a bill providing for the maintenance and enlargement of public libraries in cities of the first-class and second-class. Referred. This provides for putting such instructions under the boards of education return to perfect health.

It is officially announced that the U. P. coal mines at Scotfield will start up again in full blast on the first day of February next. The people here are rejoicing over the report and the prospects of the good times coming. The majority of the miners at Winter Quarters have their homes at Scotfield town and are moving their household goods from Winter Quarters to this place.

Cold weather. Bitter cold. At 7:30 last Friday morning the thermometer indicated 33½ degrees below zero at this point, the coldest weather this winter thus far.

Sleigh-riding seems to be the all absorbing topic of the day. You can hear the merry chimes of sleigh bells most any time.

Work in the coal mines is rather dull. Men are leaving camp almost daily.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers, and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all drug stores in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Rather Steep

Than take in any other form is what many people think and Parks' Tea is made for just those folks. It cures constipation and though not a cathartic moves the bowels every day. Sold by Smoot Drug Co.

Better Than Statehood.

During these hard times the good people of Provo are enjoying much greater benefit from the sale of Boshard's cheap flour than statehood can possibly bring them.

SAVE YOUR FENCES and try some of Provo City Lumber company's, telephone No. 31, kindling wood. Also pitch pine dry wood cut to order for any size fire place or stove.

PROCTER Academy will open on Wednesday, Jan. 3, 1894. New classes formed in Geology, Zoology and Phylology. Latin, Greek and German classes continued. Tuition $1 per month.

To the Public.

The undersigned have this day sold their entire drug, paint, and oil business, known as the Excelsior Pharmacy to Nathan Sears of the Sears glass and paint company of Salt Lake city. All accounts and notes due or to become due to the firm of Fyne & Malben are payable to Mr. Sears and he will assume all obligations of the firm. We take pleasure in commending him to the good will and patronage of the public, and trust that he will receive such support in the future as we have done in the past.

Having purchased the business of Fyne & Malben as above stated I hold myself in readiness to serve all patrons of the old firm and all new ones that may come with the best of everything in my line. The name of the business will continue as the Excelsior Pharmacy and Mr. Fyne will be retained as local manager.
